Personal memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

(5363)

7/16/01

Dear Bazopoulos –

"Genome" was coined by a German ca. 1922; I've been in some argument with the Oxford English Dictionary (see encl.) I thought Genome had more in common with Biome and phyllome than with chromosome.

I enjoy "Chimera" and all else to enhance my classical education

7/16/01

THE ROCKEFELLER UNIVERSITY NEW YORK 10021-6399

✓ with SAM 363